

Mark Horsburgh

Fisher Adams Kelly Callinans

Dr Mark Horsburgh is a patent and trade marks attorney with more than 25 years of experience in the protection and management of IP portfolios. Mark specialises in the preparation of patent, trade mark and design applications for physical chemistry, nanotechnology, applied laser technology, fibre optics, information technology, defence technology, medical devices and general engineering inventions. Following his Post-Doctoral and professional work at the University of New South Wales and the University of Queensland, Mark spent two years as a Research Scientist with the Defence Science and Technology Organisation before specialising in Intellectual Property protection. He has advised clients on various litigation issues, most recently providing advice to Konami Australia Pty Ltd on their litigation with Aristocrat Technologies Australia Pty Ltd. He has also served in various voluntary capacities in technology incubators in Australia. He joined Fisher & Kelly (now Fisher Adams Kelly Callinans) in 1993.

Mark is a Past-President of the Licensing Executives Society of Australia and New Zealand, as well as a former Board member of the Licensing Executives Society International.