

Sergey Medvedev, PhD, LL.M

Sergey is a senior lawyer working in the Moscow office of the Russian law firm “Gorodissky & Partners”. He specializes in various legal issues related to legal protection, ownership, acquisition, exploitation, licensing, securitization, litigation and enforcement of IP and IT rights in Russia and CIS. Sergey deals with various types of IP/IT, including copyrights and related rights, software and databases, patents and designs, trademarks, brands and domain names. He also deals with trade secrets/confidential information as well as privacy/data protection.

Sergey provides legal support to the clients in connection with different contractual work related to disposal and conveyance of IP/IT assets. He is regularly in charge of developing, reviewing, negotiating and perfecting (registering) licensing, franchise, security interest and other transactions. Sergey is also involved in heavy-weight M&A, joint venture and investment projects, IP/IT legal due diligence and IP/IT transfer process.

Sergey litigates and actively enforces IP/IT rights in Russia. He combats with unlawful/unauthorized use of IP/IT and illegal content on the Internet, represses unfair competition and false advertising, tackles parallel imports and grey market goods, fights against counterfeits and piracy. Sergey represents the interests of the clients in courts and with law enforcement agencies. He participates in extra-judicial as well as judicial dispute resolution actions, civil and litigation procedures, administrative and criminal proceedings.

Sergey delivers speeches at seminars and conferences. He is the author of a number of articles and works published by the leading Russian and international publishing houses.

Sergey speaks English and French. He is the member of Licensing Executives Society International (LESI).